

Doggy Trails

for Waggy Tails

Calstock Village to Cotehele Mill

 Allow: 1 – 1 ½ hr to complete this riverside walk

 A moderate undulating broad walkway above the River Tamar with fantastic views and a rich history.

 There are two dog friendly eateries to reward yourself and your special friend.

The Tamar Inn, Calstock, serves a wide range of snacks and meals, and The National Trust Tea Room is at the quayside. There are public toilets near the Village Hall and at Cotehele Quay.

- Your starting point is the free carpark at the rear of Calstock Village Hall (PL18 9QA). Follow the lower road past the Tamar Inn. Take the lane to your left walking alongside the river
- This quiet lane offers you a dramatic view of the railway viaduct. Pass a boat yard and admire interesting riverside homes along the way
- The tarmac lane leads to a row of cottages and the pottery shed
- The tarmac lane now ends and splits. The road track ahead, leads to a converted engine house owned by The Landmark Trust, and you can take a longer steeper route to Cotehele through the woodland and plantation
- My favourite way is to proceed on the stony uphill to follow the river. The broad walk way provides glimpses through the trees of the Tamar and the railway viaduct
- Continue along the well-defined track until you reach the historic quay
- Here you will find the National Trust Tea Room. Next follow the tarmac road to a level path alongside the Morden Stream through woodland
